WORLDVIEW RESOURCE DIRECTORY

The Worldview Resource Directory was originally developed for a specific Worldview Teaching Program called the Centurion Program offered through the Colson Center for Christian Worldview. This resource was not prepared by the framers of the Manhattan Declaration as a resource specifically for this purpose. The framers of the Declaration do not necessarily endorse this Worldview Resource Directory or all of the content.

The Manhattan Declaration deals only with the issues of life, marriage and religious liberty. Although this Worldview Resource Directory addresses these it also goes beyond into other worldview issues.

This is only the first resource of what we hope and expect will expand to many more in the days and weeks to come from the many organizations who support the Manhattan Declaration. Many of the Religious Leaders who have signed the Manhattan Declaration have excellent resources that deal with life, marriage and religious liberty. For additional resources please check their websites.

Introduction

This directory was originally developed for participants in the Centurions Program, a biblical worldview training program developed by BreakPoint, the worldview ministry of Prison Fellowship Ministries. Centurions are equipped to articulate and defend their faith, cultivate critical thinking skills, grasp an understanding of a biblical worldview and a basic understanding of other religions and worldviews, and gain the tools necessary to teach, train, and mentor others. Once Centurions complete their initial year of intensive training, they are commissioned to return to their family, workplace, church and community to apply what they have learned by thinking and living Christianly.

The resources in this directory are offered as tools for Centurions to use as they develop their own courses or curricula, as they continue in their own personal study, or as they seek partners or collaborators to engage culture and equip others. Hopefully they will be useful for any Christian who has a passion for “living Christianly” and equipping others to do so.

This is not an exhaustive list. The resources included in this directory come primarily from our ministry partners and collaborators: commissioned Centurions; Centurions Program speakers and teachers; Wilberforce Forum Fellows (a network of scholars, thinkers, writers, and teachers who BreakPoint draws upon for content and collaboration); and partners in The Movement, a coalition of like-minded worldview organizations and leaders working together for cultural transformation; or based on recommendations from people within those groups. New resources will be added and this directory updated on a periodic basis.

The resources in this directory are arranged by media type: books for further study; DVDs, CDs, or curricula that can be used both in personal study or as tools to teach others; and a list of organizations, ministries, and individuals who serve as resources for worldview teaching or cultural engagement from a biblical framework. Website and DVD resource descriptions in most cases were taken directly from the content provider.

You are encouraged to skim the entire directory to get familiar with the types of resources included and the topics, issues, or audiences addressed, and then when you have a need for a particular type of resource, scan the directory to find a book, DVD, or website that pertains to your area of need. When using an electronic version of this document, you may find it helpful to use the “find” tool on the document toolbar by typing in keywords to speed your search.

Amazing Grace

Run Time: 118 minutes

From the makers of Ray, AMAZING GRACE tells the inspiring story of William Wilberforce and his passion and perseverance to pass a law ending the slave trade in the late 18th century. Several friends, including Wilberforce's minister, a reformed slave ship captain who penned the beloved hymn Amazing Grace, urge him to see the cause through.

At the End of Slavery

Run Time:

Narrated by actor Danny Glover, At the End of Slavery: The Battle for Justice in our Time takes you inside the violent and ugly business of modern-day slavery — the buying and selling of human beings — from the brothels of the Philippines to the brick kilns of India. Undercover footage and first-person testimony from former slaves and respected experts expose the enormity of the crime — but a remarkable strategy and the courage of today's abolitionists offer hope for a final end to this brutal trade. Shot on location in the Philippines, India, Cambodia and the U.S., At the End of Slavery takes you to the frontlines of today's battle for justice and includes true stories of former slaves and undercover footage from police operations to rescue children from brothels. International Justice Mission's investigators, lawyers and social workers and their clients, along with other leading abolitionists and anti-trafficking experts, show that there is nothing inevitable about slavery. Law enforcement success in finding and rescuing victims, and prosecuting perpetrators, demonstrates the real possibility of an end to this trade. At the End of Slavery is a clarion call to every viewer to join the movement to end slavery in our lifetime. A film alone cannot end slavery. But by working together, we can.

The Better Hour: The Legacy of William Wilberforce

Run Time: 60 minutes

This documentary explores the 20 year effort of William Wilberforce to lead the abolition of the British slave trade, a business that was key to the country's economic strength. The film focuses on how strength of character is harnessed in the service of high and seemingly unattainable goals for society. Character and community join together to bring into the world what the English poet William Cowper described as the better hour. The work highlights William Wilberforce's drive and love for humanity and reveals how he and his colleagues took up the cause of abolition of the slave trade at a time when the British economy depended upon slavery.

The Birth of Freedom

Run Time: 58 minutes

The American founders said that all men are created equal and are endowed with certain unalienable rights. That among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. They called this a self evident truth. 87 years later, Abraham Lincoln reaffirmed this idea on the Civil War battlefield of Gettysburg. And in 1963 these same words echoed from the steps of the Lincoln Memorial as Martin Luther King, Jr. urged America to fulfill the promise of its founding. But humans are separated by enormous differences in talent and circumstance. Why would anyone believe that all men are created equal? That all should be free? That all deserve a voice in choosing their leaders? Why would any nation consider this a self-evident truth? For the millions around the world who have never tasted liberty the question cries for an answer. From Acton Media.

The Call of the Entrepreneur

Run Time: 60 minutes

A merchant banker. A failing dairy farmer. A refugee from Communist China. One risked his savings. One risked his farm. One risked his life. Why do their stories matter? Because how we view entrepreneurs - as greedy or altruistic, as virtuous or vicious - shapes the destinies of individuals and nations. From Acton Media.

Call + Response

Run Time: 86 minutes

Call+Response is a first of its kind feature documentary film that reveals the world's 27 million dirtiest secrets: there are more slaves today than ever before in human history. Call+Response goes deep undercover where slavery is thriving from the child brothels of Cambodia to the slave brick kilns of rural India to reveal that in 2007, slave traders made more money than Google, Nike and Starbucks combined. Luminaries on the issue such as Cornel West, Madeleine Albright, Daryl Hannah, Julia Ormond, Ashley Judd, Nicholas Kristof, and many other prominent political and cultural figures offer first hand account of this 21st century trade. Performances from Grammy-winning and critically acclaimed artists including Moby, Natasha Bedingfield, Cold War Kids, Matisyahu, Imogen Heap, Talib Kweli, Five For Fighting, Switchfoot, members of Nickel Creek and Tom Petty's Heartbreakers, Rocco Deluca move this chilling information into inspiration for stopping it. Music is part of the movement against human slavery. Dr. Cornel West connects the music of the American slave fields to the popular music we listen to today, and offers this connection as a rallying cry for the modern abolitionist movement currently brewing.

Expelled: No Intelligence Allowed

Run Time: 90 minutes

Big science has expelled smart new ideas from the classroom ... What they forgot is that every generation has its Rebel! That rebel, Ben Stein (Ferris Bueller's Day Off) travels the world on his quest, and learns an awe-inspiring truth ... that educators and scientists are being ridiculed, denied tenure and even fired – for the crime of merely believing that there might be evidence of design in nature, and that perhaps life is not just the result of accidental, random chance. To which Ben Says: Enough! And then gets busy. NOBODY messes with Ben.

Icons of Evolution

Run Time: 75 minutes

Are students learning the whole truth about Darwin's theory of evolution?

According to a growing number of scientists, the surprising answer is no. They claim that many of the most famous "Icons of Evolution"-including Darwin's "Tree of Life," finches from the Galapagos Islands, and embryos that look remarkably similar-are based on outdated research and sloppy logic. They say students are being hurt by the failure to present both sides of an emerging scientific debate over Darwin's theory. Come explore this fascinating new conflict over evolution in the classroom-a conflict based on science, not religion. Learn about the controversy that engulfs one town when a teacher actually tries to tell students that some scientists disagree with Darwin. From the Galapagos Islands to China, Icons of Evolution will take you on a fast-paced, fascinating journey into one of the most controversial issues in today's public arena.

Lines That Divide: The Great Stem Cell Debate

Run Time: 57 minutes.

Is stem cell research a potential miracle cure for diseases or a form of biological colonialism? The debate still rages over this controversial science. Supporters argue that it is our moral duty to pursue scientific progress that provides healing hope for humanity. Detractors argue that the ends don't justify the means in harvesting some human life to save others places our nations heart and soul on the same path as Germany in the late 1930's. This documentary seeks to educate the public on the scientific basics of stem cell research and the moral issues surrounding it. By exposing the hype and sensationalism on both side and asking the right questions to leading authorities Lines That Divide will become the definitive teaching tool as we continue into the 21st century.

The Merchants of Cool

Run Time: 55 minutes

They spend their days sifting through reams of market research data. They conduct endless surveys and focus groups. They comb the streets, the schools, and the malls, hot on the trail of the "next big thing" that will snare the attention of their prey--a market segment worth an estimated $150 billion a year. They are the merchants of cool: creators and sellers of popular culture who have made teenagers the hottest consumer demographic in America. But are they simply reflecting teen desires or have they begun to manufacture those desires in a bid to secure this lucrative market? And have they gone too far in their attempts to reach the hearts--and wallets--of America's youth? FRONTLINE correspondent Douglas Rushkoff examines the tactics, techniques, and cultural ramifications of these marketing moguls in "The Merchants of Cool" and explores the symbiotic relationship between the media and today's teens, as each looks to the other for their identity.

Not Evil Just Wrong: The True Cost of Global Warming Hysteria

Run Time: 85 minutes

Global warming alarmists want Americans to believe that humans are killing the planet. But Not Evil Just Wrong, a new documentary by Phelim McAleer and Ann McElhinney, proves that the only threats to America (and the rest of the world) are the flawed science and sky-is-falling rhetoric of environmental extremists. The film warns Americans that their jobs, middle-class lifestyles and dreams for their children will be destroyed if the government rushes to judgment and imposes job-killing regulations on an economy already mired in recession. Not Evil Just Wrong exposes the deceptions about global warming that scientists, politicians, educators and the media have been force-feeding the public for years, including fear-mongering about floods and dying polar bears. The documentary shows how environmentalists are pushing the same kind of anti-human propaganda that triggered a ban on DDT and condemned millions of children to death by malaria, a story recounted in the film. Not Evil Just Wrong asks: Is carbon dioxide the new DDT and are we taking the same risks with our future?

Politics and Faith DVD: Chuck Colson on Politics and Faith

Run Time: 4 sessions

In this four-session DVD curriculum, Colson's discussions are neither "religious right" nor "religious left" but balanced, clear, and biblically based. This four-session DVD curriculum gives individuals or small groups the opportunity to hear neither a "religious right" nor a "religious left" perspective but balanced, clear, and biblically based thoughts on these important issues. Colson provides a great starting point for informed and thoughtful discussion and application to life in a political world on the following topics: Is America a Christian nation? Should Christians be in politics? What is America's church and state problem? Can politics save America?

The Privileged Planet

Run Time: 58 minutes

Today, most scientists and philosophers claim that Earth is an ordinary speck of dust adrift, without purpose or significance, in a vast cosmic sea. This idea (popularized by the late astronomer, Carl Sagan) is an outgrowth of the naturalistic philosophy that has dominated science for the past 150 years. Yet, remarkable evidence--unveiled by contemporary astronomy and physics--may now tell a very different story. Building upon the overwhelming success of Unlocking the Mystery of Life (widely acclaimed as the most effective refutation of Darwinian theory, ever produced), Illustra Media presents The Privileged Planet. This hour-long documentary explores the scientific evidence for intelligent design and purpose in the universe. In the process, Earth is revealed as far more than the product of time, chance, and random natural processes. We now know that a rare and finely tuned array of factors makes Earth suitable for complex life. We depend on our planet's oxygen-rich atmosphere, its large moon, its planetary neighbors, and its precise location within the solar system and Milky Way galaxy. But the story does not end here. For, the same factors that make a planet like Earth hospitable to life also provide the best conditions for scientific discovery. Is this correlation merely a coincidence? Or does it point to a deeper truth about the purpose of the cosmos and the reality of a transcendent designer? The answer could dramatically affect 21st century science. Through stunning computer animation, interviews with leading scientists, and spectacular images of Earth and the cosmos, The Privileged Planet explores a startling connection between our capacity to survive and our ability to observe and understand the universe.

Rewired DVD Curriculum

Run Time: 12 sessions

Rewired was co-produced by renowned worldview thinker Chuck Colson and cutting-edge youth ministry Teen Mania. This innovative curriculum tackles four key worldview questions and explores how those answers impact teens' ideas, beliefs, and attitudes – concerning everything from life-or-death issues such as abortion and doctor-assisted suicide, to everyday dilemmas of what outfit to wear to school or what music to download. The four questions are: Where did I come from? What's wrong with the world? What can be done to fix it? What is my purpose? Students will examine prevalent false ideas and assumptions promoted through culture, learning to identify even subtle distortions. And they will study the Christian perspective, learning to counter false ideas with confidence and clarity so they can impact the beliefs of others as well.

Saddled with night shifts and home-schooling, she is dedicated to preventing her son from being lost in a system ill-equipped to handle him. In a desperate fight against time, and with his options ever narrowing, he is forced to take drastic measures to escape dire consequences. In the course of two pivotal days one past and one present both will confront their own personal demons and seek in each other the healing powers of forgiveness.

Unlocking the Mystery of Life

Run Time: 67 minutes

In 1859, Charles Darwin published On the Origin of Species. In it, he argued that all of life on earth was the product of undirected natural processes: time, chance, and natural selection. Since Darwin, biologists have relied on such processes to account for the origin of living things. Yet today, this approach is being challenged as never before. "Unlocking the Mystery of Life" is the story of top-notch, contemporary scientists who are advancing a powerful idea -- "the theory of intelligent design." Using state-of-the-art computer animation, "Unlocking the Mystery of Life" transports you into the interior of the living cell to explore systems and machines that bear the unmistakable hallmarks of design. Discover the intricacy of a microscopic bacterial rotary motor, which spins at 100,000 rpm. Within the nucleus explore the wonder of DNA, a thread-like molecule that stores instructions to build the essential components of every living organism. It is part of a biological information processing system more complex and more powerful than any computer network. This compelling documentary examines an idea with the power to revolutionize our understanding of life... and to unlock the mystery of its origin.

Wide Angle DVD Curriculum

Run Time: 6 sessions

Christian leaders Chuck Colson and Rick Warren have joined together to produce a stimulating study called Wide Angle: Framing Your Worldview. Our worldview—the way we look at life—impacts everything we do. The moral choices we make; the way we spend our money; the kind of relationships we have; the priorities we set. The quest question is: Is our worldview fully shaped by Christian truth? And do we know the best way to detect and counter the false values of our culture? In this DVD study series, Colson and Warren tackle some of the key issues of our day: truth vs. relativism, creationism vs. Darwinism, tolerance, terrorism, and so much more. You will learn about competing worldviews, the biblical basis for a Christian worldview, and its application to every facet of life.

Priests for Life

The Washington Institute for Faith, Vocation and Culture

www.washingtoninst.org

Sifting and sorting our way through the info-glut of a modern-becoming-postmodern world, being contra mundum where it matters and therefore people who prize the integral relation between reflection and responsibility--- in a word, wisdom --is the heart of the mission of The Washington Institute for Faith, Vocation & Culture. We are not interested in knowledge for its own sake— never ever. Rather our concern is for a way of knowing that connects what we believe with the way that we live... our convictions about God, human nature, and history, with the reality of everyday experience. From beginning to end we are most interested in understanding why, how, and that “mere Christianity” shapes life, from the most personal areas of human concern to the most public arenas of human responsibility. Faith... vocation... culture. The biblical vision of life and the world, pondered and practiced for many centuries in myriad cultures... forming what we do and why we do what we do... forming our responsibility for history, for the way culture is and isn't. The end? That we might develop eyes to see the world as God does.

White Horse Inn

www.whitehorseinn.org

White Horse Inn believes that each generation must rediscover and apply the gospel to their own time and longs to see a second reformation take hold of our churches and return them to the God-honoring, Christ-centered, Spirit-wrought places of worship they should be. CURE didn't represent just one denomination, but tried to include as many different Reformation voices in the conversation as possible. More than a ministry of one man or congregation, CURE drew on the wisdom of many to identify and correct the problems that plagued evangelical and Reformational churches, alike. One of the first efforts to broaden their influence came in 1990 with the launch of the weekly radio broadcast, White Horse Inn, with hosts Michael Horton, Kim Riddlebarger, Rod Rosenblatt, and Ken Jones.
